

Center for Professional Development Certified Ophthalmic Technician Prep Course

This is a course that prepares practicing COAs (Certified Ophthalmic Assistants) in an Ophthalmology office to take the exam to become a COT (Certified Ophthalmic Technician).

The course will be team taught with Ophthalmologists and Optometrists in the area serving as guest faculty. This program fills a void for local COAs who would like to attend a short program to help them achieve a higher level of certification through JCAHPO (Joint Commission on Allied Health Personnel in Ophthalmology.)
